SPECIAL VOTE IS SAFETY COUNCIL NOT WISHED NOW OF COUNTY SETS SAYS ATTORNEY UP AN AUXILIARY

Redwood City Lawyer Asserts Neither He Nor Clients Will Try To Force Election At This Time

At Redwood City, Wednesday of this week, Attorney Joseph Bullock went on record that a special election to fill six County offices made elective by amendments approved by the electors last summer and ratified by the recent special session of the Legislature would be universally unpopular at this time.

At the regular meeting of March 18 the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors passed a resolution in which it announced its intention of refusing to call the special election on the eve of the August primary. That was what he wanted all the time, according to a statement by the attorney for the proponents of the amendments.

While Bullock maintained that the board could be forced to call the election, and that the board, despite its action, actually wished to call the election and place the blame on Bullock, the attorney made this statement:

"I never intended to be a party to the calling of a special election,

BROWNIE GIRLS NOW HAVE NEW PINS AND HATS

Discover Unknown Talents And Abilities Through Work For Festival Of Youth

Twelve delighted little girls gazed into the "magic pool" and saw a Brownie at the Brownie ceremony held, Thursday afternoon of last week, when those who had learned the Brownie promise and attended the required number of meetings received their Brownie pins and hats, becoming full-fledged members of Daly City Brownie Pack No. 2. The Brownie hats were made for the children by the Daly City Recreational Project staff under the direction of Mrs. Lela Campbell. Much credit is due to Mrs. Campbell for the completion of the hats on such short notice.

As the work progresses in the preparation for the Festival of Youth, the leaders of Girl Scout Troop 2 are finding that the large scope of talents and abilities needed in the completion of this project is giving every member of Troop 2 an opportunity to awaken and use the talents which each girl is best fitted to do and many of the girls are having the joy of discovering abilities they did not know they possessed. With sewing, cooking, gardening, salesmanship, art work, dramatics, singing, music and various other things all a part of the festival the girls are finding that there are many places where their abilities are needed.

DALY CITY MAY BE IN LINE FOR SAFETY CITATION

With a 90 per cent decrease in its accident rate for 1937 over the previous year, Culver City, center of Southern California's motion picture industry, today loomed as the probable winner of the California Safety Council prize for top place in cities under 10,000 population, it has been announced.

Lodi, Visalia, and Pittsburg, however, were reported by the Safety Council to be crowding Culver City for first honors in accident reduction, based on incomplete returns now being checked.

In the next classification of cities, those from 10,000 up to 25,000 population, Santa Rosa, Anaheim, Salinas, and Daly City were running neck and neck for safety citation. Although its accident rate was higher, Daly City was regarded as possessing unusual hazards because of a

To Be Composed Of Five Committees Led By Prominent Men In Each Field

Organization of a Traffic Safety Council Citizens Auxiliary was completed, Friday evening of last week, at a meeting of the San Mateo County Traffic Safety Commission.

The council, comprising 36 members in addition to the seven members of the commission, was divided into five committees.

The commission also discussed final plans for a comprehensive traffic accident survey WPA project and voiced approval of the City of San Mateo's death patrol in the dangerous El Camino Real zone near Bay Meadows race-track.

Each of the Traffic Safety Council committees is led by a member of the commission. Dr. Arthur Nobbs, commission chairman, and John L. Hardiman, vice chairman, are to be ex-officio members of all committees, it was explained.

The committees are as follows: Accident Facts, Engineering, Traffic Regulations, Law Enforcement and Education.

Two Daly City educators, Clive Saiz of the faculty of the Jefferson Union High School and R. L. Crane, superintendent of the Jefferson School District, were placed on the last named committee.

Mrs. Roosevelt Visits Kin In Seattle

BE ON LOOKOUT FOR CHILDREN

The touch of spring in the air that starts the grass and flowers growing brings with it a new danger for motorists—children playing in the streets or near the curb. The lives of more than 4100 children below the age of 15 years were cut off with abrupt cruelty in the United States during 1937—each in a single moment of someone's carelessness.

This is the time of year, the National Safety Council warns, when these accidents begin to happen most frequently. Your children should be reminded to play away from the street, to cross at the corner, and then only after looking carefully both ways.

But it is your responsibility as a driver to expect the unexpected from children. If a ball rolls into the street, look out for a child behind it.—San Mateo County Traffic Safety Commission.

SERIAL OFFERS MYSTERY FANS A GREAT TEST

Opening Chapter At Next Sunday Matinee, Daly City Theater

Movie fans who pride themselves in their ability as puzzle solvers will find "The Lone Ranger" an ideal testing ground.

For the hero of Republic's latest serial, which is featured weekly at the Daly City Theater, is unidentified throughout the entire film. The Lone Ranger—whoever he is—wears a heavy mask at all times, and his facial features are always concealed.

Even the omni-present publicity men and reporters with their "nose for news" could not obtain any clue as to whom the rider was until the final shooting of the fifteenth chapter of the thrilling western production.

"The Lone Ranger" is unique in the fact that it is the most expensive picture of its type ever made. It is a fast moving, dramatic epic, with the history of Old Texas during the post Civil War period utilized as a background.

A renegade named Jeffries kills an officer of the United States government. By impersonating him, Jeffries gradually forces the people of Texas to turn their land over to him, and becomes one of the most influential and powerful men in the section.

The ruthless tactics employed by the impersonator inspires the "Lone Ranger"—last of the original Texas Rangers—to attempt to free the Texans from his power.

How the Ranger eventually succeeds in his purpose is the basis of the most thrilling serial ever produced. His identity, always unrevealed, nevertheless is conveyed to audiences as being a man of unusual fighting ability, intelligence, and prowess.

FIRE LOSS IS LOW

Fire losses in Daly City stand at a minimum. During the year 1935 the pro rata loss was ten cents and eleven mills. In 1936 the loss dropped to ten cents and eight mills.

TRAFFIC PATROL

The recently established traffic control sponsored by Councilmen Selmi, Sundermann and Twisten has a twofold result to the benefit of Daly City.

First, it does minimize traffic accidents and hazards to pedestrians. Second, funds derived from fines have increased from $688 in the fiscal year 1935-36 to $3272.50 in the fiscal year 1936-37. This shows an increase of $2584.50.

This illustrates only one of many ways by which additional revenue for improvements in Daly City can be had without changing the tax rate and further burdening the taxpayer.

Skit Shows Relative Values Of Library To Advancement Of The Home

The Home Service Department of the Seventeenth District, under the direction of Mrs. W. G. Fuhr, sixth vice president, placed itself on record last week as having an important and definite part in the Parent-Teacher movement. The meeting at the Burlingame High School Auditorium held many interesting surprises throughout the day for an appreciative audience.

Small attractive booklets were handed each member on entering the auditorium. These contained the favorite recipe of each past resident and were given as favors from the department. John Coad and Jack Gibsen both of local schools were commended for the fine printing job for which they were responsible. "Attune Your Home To Reading," a play written by Mrs. J. F. Coad in which the activities of the department were referred to by the actors while seeking information at a library and availing themselves of the opportunities for obtaining valuable material either from books, book lists, magazines or newspapers which the librarian so graciously assisted them in finding, proved enlightening to many. It showed the relative value of libraries to the advancement of the home.

A display of quilts made by Mrs. Lela Campbell of Daly City included numerous patterns such as the flower garden, nine patch, feather star, Jacob's ladder, triple Irish chain,

KIN OF SCREEN STAR SUCSUMBS FROM INJURIES

San Mateo County Coroner To Investigate Circumstances Of Cause Of Death

Albert Frank Carrillo, 83, uncle of Leo Carrillo, film actor, and member of the prominent early California family of Carrillo, died, Saturday of last week, at Villa Hospital in Daly City. It was announced by Coroner William Crosby that he would make an investigation.

The coroner's office intends to investigate just how Carrillo, direct descendant of one of California's first governors, was injured in an accident on January 22.

Apparently the aged man was struck by a hit-run driver at the corner of Polk and Jackson streets in San Francisco on that date, suffering a broken leg and back. He was taken to the San Francisco Hospital and removed to Villa Hospital on February 22. Still recuperating from his injuries, Carrillo contracted pneumonia and died last Saturday.

The remains were shipped to Santa Rosa for interment.

Hours Changed For Library During Construction Work

The Daly City library will be closed during the day, but will be open from 5 p. m. to 10 p. m., Monday to Friday inclusive, and Saturday from 1:30 to 5 p. m.

These hours will continue during the construction of the addition and will prevail until further notice.

Four Bound Over To Superior Court

Prima Maffei and Max Galluzzi, arrested by state liquor officers in raids on asserted illicit distilleries in Lawndale March 10, have been held to answer to superior court by Justice of the Peace W. H. Clay.

Maffei was held on a charge of possessing a still and Galluzzi was held on two counts, possession of a still and possession of untaxed liquor. Judge Clay also held to answer Guy Ancara and Robert Priest, arrested early this month for burglary at a Colma service station,

CITY DEPARTMENTS ARE HIGH IN EFFICIENCY

PURITY OF DALY CITY WATER IS FAMED IN STATE

Profit From Department Equals More Than Half Of Property Tax

Residents of Daly City enjoy water which is classed as of the purest and best in quality to be had in the state of California. Visitors here always commend local water and often say they would like to take it home with them.

By the recent addition of two new reservoirs water storage for the city has been increased from one million to three million gallons. This tremendous supply gives the community virtual security in the event of any unforeseen disaster.

Pumping and distribution units of the system are modern and operate to the highest possible degree of efficiency. Operating costs are low and interruption of service is practically unknown.

In addition to supplying excellent quality and service the Daly City Water Department is the city's greatest source of revenue, excluding property tax.

Net profit from water sales in the fiscal year 1936-37 was $28,307.28. Property taxes collected for the same period were only $44,189.06.

Water profits for 1936-37 paid all expenses of the following: Fire Department, Street Department, Health Department, garbage disposal, traffic control, library, printing, parks, city attorney's office and treasurer's office. Total expenses of these ten listed items was $26,414.35.

LIBRARY CONSTRUCTION

Construction work on the new library building at 6315 Mission street is progressing rapidly. It will be open for use early this summer. Vigorous progressive measures sponsored by Councilmen Selmi, Sundermann and Twisten made it possible to give residents here the advantages of an enlarged library.

Excess Of $100,000 Is Spent On Business Buildings; 84 New Homes Go Up

Construction work in Daly City has shown genuine stimulation in the past two years. More than $100,000 has been spent in building places of business: stores, filling stations, garages and halls. The Masonic Temple, corner of Mission street and Hillcrest drive, is a valuable asset to the "top of the hill."

Eighty-four new homes have been constructed in Daly City in the past two years, with the result of increased population and additional business for local merchants and professional men.

Present completion of the new gymnasium and swimming pool at Jefferson Union High School at last gives a physical reality to a dream long held by improvement minded citizens. The gym and pool will give high school students many more advantages than they previously enjoyed. It will also furnish smaller

DALY CITY FIRE DEPARTMENT IS BEST IN BAY AREA

Get Class "A" Rating From National Underwriters For Call Companies

Rated as Class "A" by the National Board of Underwriters, the Daly City Fire Department enjoys the highest status awarded for call companies. Such an excellent rating is unusual for volunteer departments which protect such a large area and operate on such a low budget. The local department operates on a budget of approximately $8000 per year. Burlingame, a city not much larger than Daly City, has an annual budget of $28,000 for its fire department. San Mateo pays $38,000 per year to maintain its department.

Property owners in Daly City enjoy the same insurance rates as those in San Francisco. Burlingame and San Mateo insurance rates are nearly double those of Daly City.

ENGLISH CHANNEL TUNNEL PROPOSED

It was Napoleon Bonaparte, who first suggested a tunnel under the English Channel. It was before the Battle of Waterloo, of course, and it is related that a Paris engineer actually prepared rough plans of the scheme. Then followed the great general's defeat and the subject was not mentioned again for 30 years.

In 1834 another French engineer suggested that there should be a submerged archway, a train ferry and finally a regular tunnel under the English Channel, and he, too, had a lot of plans drawn up. But this idea was also shelved, for Queen Victoria and Napoleon didn't think much of the idea.

From that time until the present day there have been many suggestions for this marvelous tunnel, and it is now estimated that the work would cost over 30,000,000 pounds and occupy more than five years. The whole tunnel would have to be some 36 miles in length, the undersea section being 24 miles, and the journey to France from the English coast would take one hour.

Perhaps one of these days we shall see this amazing engineering feat performed.

Failing to obtain a marriage license on credit, George Albritton of Erie, Colo., requested the county clerk to send it to him C. O. D.

All The Little Fellows Had Opportunity To Be Heard And Exploit Their Ideas

Business generally, as distinguished from "Big Business," had its opportunity last week to present its views as to what government could do to improve economic conditions and to counteract the present recession. The big fellows in industry and finance had had their shot at it, the important railroad people were scheduled, and it seemed only fitting that the average fellow in commercial life was also entitled to a hearing.

There was a natural difficulty in selecting a group out of the millions of dealers and manufacturers in 48 states, so the expedient was adopted of making up a list from those who had indicated sufficient interest in the situation to write to the President or to the Department of Commerce. There were thousands of such letters. Obviously, it was not practical to ask all the writers down to Washington. So there came up the problem of selection.

What the administration was looking for was representative group. Had it been attempted to sound out in advance those chosen the gathering would have been justly subject to the criticism that it was hand-picked, which would, of course, have destroyed its democratic complexion. So the names were selected more or less at random, except that the contents of the letters, where they indicated the character of the writer, was at least a partial guide. As most of these letters began with some such phrase as "I am a manufacturer of notions, employing thirty men," or "I am the owner of a store which supplies such and such a community," or "I am the president of a small corporation, dealing in," etc., there was a little information as to the status of the letter writers. No attention was paid to whether the body of the letter endorsed or assailed the government's policies. Obviously, among a thousand individuals picked in this fashion there were bound to be a few cranks, a few violent radicals, and perhaps a greater number of hide-bound reactionaries. All sorts and conditions of people write to the President of the United States, whether because of grievance, real or fancied, or because of the great American instinct that makes a lot of men believe that they can see further through a millstone than anybody else and declare themselves accordingly.

NET RESULT GOOD

However, the net result of the invitations to Washington was pretty good. The resolutions presented to the President were all sensible, in presenting a point of view, and it is not impossible that some of them contained at least the germ of an idea that will prove helpful. At all events, they are of a character that commands respect and merits consideration.

Unfortunately, the newspapers in their reports of the gathering emphasized the picturesque and the incongruous incidents, and so the country possibly got a very twisted idea of the deliberations of this business group. We cannot really complain because the members of our craft followed this procedure. A newspaper reporter invariably writes with headlines in view, and there is more excitement in the suppression of a disturber than in the straight recording of ordinary proceedings. This circumstance may be regrettable, but it is quite understandable. We are familiar with the same sort of thing even in the deliberations of Congress. We all remember that the diatribes of Huey Long, and before that the fulminations of Tom Heflin, got all sorts of prominence in the newspaper reports, even when the important legislation on which they were supposed to be speaking was barely referred to and in many cases got no mention at all.

It all depends, in estimating these things, on the point of view as to the function of the daily newspaper. Is it the paper's chief business to entertain its readers, or to instruct them? Judging from my own experience, I do not think that the circulation department of any important publication would have to think twice in answering that question.

At all events, the idea of gathering was to get an expression from a vast group of our population especially concerned with marketing and other elements of business which had indicated that it had as much right to be heard as the great capitalists and corporation heads.

FINDING THE SOLUTION

Naturally, pretty much every group looks at the problem of improving business from its own point of view, and that point of view, in the majority of cases, has a basis of probability in accomplishing the result. There is no doubt, for example, that universal high wages would, by refreshing and enhancing the public purchasing power, give a great stimulus to business. On the other hand, the people who make and sell things put their problems first. They want the market established so as to be assured of high profits, as a precedent to high wages. The bankers want to feel certain that the enterprises they are called upon to finance will be successful before they let out any money. All of these things are desirable, of course, but it is something new in our economic history for people to demand a governmental guarantee on their investments.

Successful men are rather proud of the chances they have taken to arrive. It is doubtful if any American fortune has had its foundation on such a principle. Robert Fulton took a chance on the first steamboat; the Vanderbilts took a chance on railroads; Henry Ford had no guarantee on mass-production of cheap cars when he developed the Model T. Radios, telegraphs, telephones, air navigation, were all born out of the minds of men who had faith in their ideas and in themselves.

notwithstanding frequent statements to the contrary. I have succeeded in placing both the district attorney and the board on record publicly. That was the ultimate purpose."

The lawyer declared that Colonel Frederick Peterson of Burlingame, one time a candidate for the appointment to the county managership and sponsor of the amendments, had been wrongfully accused of seeking to force the special election.

"Colonel Peterson has been charged with advocating such special election, yet the records and facts show conclusively to the contrary," he stated.

Bullock pointed to two accomplishments as the desired objective of amendment proponents: (1) the amendment of the charter which made appointive offices elective, and (2) ratification of the amendments. Bullock criticized appointment of the present county executive, engineer and health director, asserting that "there are citizens in the county capable of holding these positions." He said the men now holding these positions were not residents of San Mateo County at the time of their appointment.

Any way you look at it, it now appears that a special county election is "off" for the present, at least.

ALCAZAR STAGE NOW SETTING FOR BIZARRE PLAY

Newspaper Woman Pokes Fun At Politicians In Very Funny Production

A brilliant newspaper writer takes a jab at windbag politicians and in doing it provokes a whirlwind of mirth and merriment in the current attraction, "Me Third," which opened at the Alcazar Theater Monday night. "Me Third" was written by Mary Coyle Chase, a Denver newspaper woman, and was produced by Brock Pemberton in New York. The San Francisco production is under the banner of the Federal Theater.

"Me Third" produces the type of fun that brings a spontaneous guffaw in its broader analysis and has throughout a subtle and constantly amusing quality that is the aim of every playwright. Richard Allan, who plays the part of Harlan Hazlett, family head and candidate for county attorney, an egotistical puff of hot air, is outstanding. The same may be said for Geraldine Allan as Mrs. Hazlett, Edna Ellsmere and Ruth Saville as Hazlett's mother and sister; Grace Cooper, the Hazlett housemaid who was formerly a lady of the evening and about whom much of the plot center. Others in the cast are Solly Carter, J. Raymond Northcutt, Robert Clarke, young Kenneth Keeney, Jack Vallee, Rupert Drumm, Daniel Pennell, Maurice Hugo, Ben Legere, Walter Farnsworth, Frank Bolger, Dorothy White, Marta Golden and Frank Lyons.

"Me Third" is just such a play as might be expected from a keen witted newspaper person who knows the way around and manages to maintain a freshness of viewpoint that refuses to be dulled by routine. It is chock full of bizarre situations, laughable incidents and rates a good run, though it is announced it will remain for only two weeks.

"I've finished with that girl."
"Why?"
"She asked me if I danced."
"What's so insulting about that?"
"I was dancing with her when she asked me."

Massive San Francisco Dam Overflows After Long Rains

PERSHING P.T.A. EFFICIENCY MAN ELECTION HELD ABOUT THROUGH AT COUNTY SEAT

General Pershing P. T. A. has completed a busy year. At the annual meeting this month the General Pershing P. T. A. reports showed the unit to have fulfilled all the requirements for a Standard Association. Mrs. Mary Parodi, magazine chairman, reported 28 magazines sold, the returns donated to the recreation project. Two members of this P. T. A., Mrs. Mazie Boyle and Mrs. A. Eason are serving on this commission for the city.

The parent education course is completed, with more than fifty members in attendance at the consumers education classes in the San Mateo Junior College during October and November.

A budget was made in September and the chairman, Mrs. George Woodside, reported it was closely followed. Mrs. A. Emerson, cafeteria chairman, reported 800 lunches were served to needy children. This cafeteria has been in operation since last November, all work being done by members of the P. T. A.

A teachers and parents lunch was served in January. Halloween and Christmas parties were held for the children of the schools.

A successful whist was given this month to raise money for the Boy Scouts summer camp.

To raise the balance of funds for the remainder of the year's work, a rummage sale is to be held in May. Mrs. Mazie Boyle and Mrs. Rose Gardella will be chairmen.

The following officers have been elected to serve for the ensuing term: Ida Marquis, president; Alice Bryant, honorary vice president; M. Calvin, vice president; G. Sino, recording secretary; H. King, corresponding secretary; C. Frazier, financial secretary; E. Carnavale, treasurer; R. Majah, historian; C. Lucas, auditor; R. Gardella, parliamentarian.

Mrs. Sadie Welsh, membership chairman, reported a membership role of 127.

Two members of General Pershing hold honorary life memberships in the California Congress. They are Mrs. Anne Eason and Mrs. Mazie Boyle.

Ernest Faulkner, motorist, sued Abram Ostrander, pedestrian, in a Peoria, Ill., court. Faulkner said he suffered $1000 worth of worry because his car hit Ostrander.

A. C. Fensel, Los Angeles efficiency expert, is back in Redwood City to finish his economic survey for San Mateo County.

Fensel is expected to wind up his work here about April 1, according to County Executive Rolison. The survey, which has cost nearly $5000, and its offspring, the Service Division have been the targets of severe criticism from county officials. The budget director's post, which it was rumored might be assumed by Fensel after the survey, was abolished last week by the County Board of Supervisors.

Frank Galiano of New Orleans earns his living mending broken beer glasses. He repairs about 200 glasses a week.

WASHINGTON NEWS

FROM OUR CONGRESSMAN
JOHN J. McGRATH

Wages And Hours—About 20 bills for the purpose of regulating wages and hours are before the House Labor Committee. House Rules Chairman O'Connor predicts that a bill regulating wages and hours will pass the House this session. It is believed that out of the 20 measures in Committee one will be salvaged by April 1.

Aliens—The Immigration Committee has reported to the House a bill denying American citizenship to any person believing in or affiliated with an organization that advocates a change in the present form of the United States Government.

Youth—A program costing a half billion dollars for vocational guidance and employment of youths between ages of 16 and 25 is proposed by the Lundeen bill to help American youth. The bill is at present being heard in a Senate Education and Labor Subcommittee.

National Defense—After the authorization bill becomes law, the President will make final decision on speed of the expansion and rate of expenditure. It is predicted by naval officers that there will be annual naval appropriations of $750,000,000 or $200,000,000 more than the pending record breaking 1939 naval appropriation bill.

Highway Bill—Congressman Elmore H. Wene of New Jersey has introduced a bill, H. R. 9666 which would build a system of super highways that would be as permanent as the Appian Way of the Roman Empire, linking every section of America. This highway system would consist of at least four lanes of traffic in each direction, with parking shoulders, all on a reinforced base of concrete. About 25,000 miles of road would be required to link all sections of the country. These super highways would be built only as fast as necessary to keep American industry and labor operating at capacity. The cost of the highway, including cover and under passes, would be about $250,000 to $300,000 per mile, or from $8,000,000,000 to $10,000,000,000 complete. To build this self liquidating highway would require every bit of available labor of every description for many years. About 20,000,000 tons of fabricated steel, 500,000,000 barrels of cement and more than 100,000 tractors, road building machines, and other motor equipment would be required.

Trade Agreements—A severe test will be given the reciprocal trade agreement program by Secretary of State Cordell Hull. He intends to make an agreement with the United Kingdom, to add one more to the 17 already made. A tariff adjustment reciprocal agreement between this country and Czechoslovakia was the last to be entered under the 17 agreements.

Youthful Skippers—Under the new plan of the Maritime Commission, young skippers among the youth of America will be given a chance to further their ambitions. The new plan sets up a training system to provide officers for the merchant marine. Those eligible for positions of "cadet officer" aboard government owned or federally subsidized vessels, must be applicants graduated from state nautical schools, the United States Naval Academy, and the United States Coast Guard Academy, holding third mate or third assistant engineer licenses.

Business Men's Bureau—The farmers of the United States have a bureau to perform services for them—the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Now the business men are to have a similar bureau for their services. The Commerce Department is setting up a Bureau of Industrial Economics to study problems of industry.

Licensing Bill—Under the Borah-Mahoney bill for licensing corporations, all corporations engaged in interstate commerce would be required to obtain license from the federal government. Such a bill would make it possible for the United States Government to know in just what financial condition the corporations are in.

CCC—300 CCC camps will be closed before June 1, in order to reduce the strength of the corps from 300,000 to 250,000. The reduction will take place even though applications for enrollment have shown a continued increase instead of decrease. Approximately 4000 supervisory and administrative officials will be dismissed also.

Judiciary—An omnibus bill for additional judges in ten states and the District of Columbia, and other authorizations, was reported by the Judiciary Committee. A resolution was also made to make April an anti cancer campaign month, each year.

WPA Projects—On the theory that home building might be encouraged if neighborhoods were put in better conditions, the WPA wants approval of numerous projects for laying out new streets and sewer installations.

Heart Attack Fatal

Arthur C. Rud, 45, 44 Cavour street, was stricken with a fatal heart attack while asleep Monday morning of this week about 2:30 o'clock.

The surviving relatives are the widow, Catherine; two minor children, Beverly and Arthur Jr.; two sisters and a brother, Mrs. Edith F. Maloney and Roy V. Rud and Hazel E. Rud.

TROOP NO. 141 and CUB PACK NO. 141

Meets Thursdays 7 to 9 p. m. at Nazarene Church, Vista and Santa Barbara

(Scout Angelo Ditty, Troop Rep.)

Our last troop meeting was well attended. Only one active member was absent. Kenneth Claussen, newest member of the troop, won first place in the efficiency contest for the last week, in both his patrol and in the troop. Other Scouts are getting under way and Kennie will have to keep hopping if he hopes to stay in the lead.

Several Scouts recently went with Mr. Straughan, in Soy Bean, and cut a lot of willow poles to be used in the coming Festival of Youth. Pennants advertising the festival will be made of various bright colors of cloth and will fly from the poles which will be attached to power poles on Mission street. With all the advertising schemes that Mrs. Lemon has planned, Daly City will look like a festival city for sure pretty soon.

The Indian patrol met at the home of its leader, Lawrence Christiansen, and made progress in craft work they plan to sell at the festival.

The Waterdog patrol had its usual weekly meeting at the church and had only one member missing. They worked some on the festival plans and did other things customary to them.

Three boys who were former Scouts in Troop 151 made application for membership in our troop and were accepted. They were John and Frank Dake and Iowa Tyler.

Local Boy Marries

Miss Anne Sylvia Perry of San Francisco and Lyl Ingersoll of Crocker avenue were married, Saturday evening of last week, at 8 o'clock, at the First Congregational Church in San Francisco.

Miss Perry was attended by her sister, Mrs. Hilda Ross. Hugh Ingersoll was his brother's best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Ingersoll will make their home on Crocker avenue.

Talented Artist To Draw Portraits At Festival Of Youth

Al Brush, advertising artist of the Sperry Flour Company, makers of Drifted Snow Flour, has been secured to serve for the Festival of Youth. He will set up his studio there and draw portraits of visitors. Mr. Brush is a resident of Daly City, having lived here most of his life. His artistic ability began to assert itself at an early age and our local high school art department did its part in shaping his successful career.

Mr. Brush draws both pictures and crowds. He is a star attraction wherever he appears and his crayon studies are highly prized by all who are fortunate enough to secure them.

On this occasion one Festival of Youth Credit Token will be charged for a portrait and the entire proceeds will go into the festival fund. So if you want to get a likeness of yourself done by this popular and talented artist, remember it takes a "token."

DEATH OF RESIDENT

Death ended the illness of Fred Stender, 51, 191 San Diego avenue, Saturday of last week.

The surviving relatives are the widow, Margaret Stender, and a brother, Herbert Stender.

Funeral services were conducted from the mortuary chapel of W. C. Lasswell & Co., Tuesday afternoon of this week at 3:30 o'clock, followed by interment in Cypress Lawn Cemetery.

The Stenders made their home in Daly City for the past eight years.

At the annual meeting of the Jefferson Union High School P. T. A., the following members were elected to serve for the new term: Mrs. Susie Sanders, president; T. Hollingsworth, vice president; Prof. James Ferguson, honorary vice president; Mrs. Stella Jensen, recording secretary; M. Linden, financial secretary; L. Nelson, treasurer; G. Hill, corresponding secretary; L. Thomey, historian; M. Riando, auditor; M. Crane, parliamentarian.

The reports of the high school chairman indicate the unit can expect to win another award this year for following all rules as given by the state association to receive a standard rating.

The executive board received 100 per cent in magazine subscriptions to the California Congress Magazine.

The consumer education classes completed a printed program of the year's work, made at the beginning of the term.

The Student Aid Fund is carefully budgeted.

Life membership was purchased for Mrs. F. Bentley, past president.

There has been a large attendance at all district meetings, and night meetings held for the benefit of the fathers. An outstanding Founders Day program was given. The speakers at both meetings talked on interesting subjects.

At all executive board meetings there was 100 per cent attendance. Publicity record books were made to be sent to the district and the increase of membership over last year was noted. To raise the balance of the funds for the year's work, a dessert luncheon and whist will be held in the home of the president, Mrs. Stella Jensen, Wednesday, April 6, 1:30 p.m. You are asked to come and bring your friends.

From the Jefferson Union High School P. T. A. the following were elected to represent the unit at the district convention, April 20-21, in the Baywood Theater, San Mateo: Mrs. Eva Page, Marge Woodside, Susie Sanders, T. Hollingsworth, M. Conserva and the president, Mrs. Stella Jensen.

NEW GIRL IN HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Giacomini, formerly of Flounoy street, are the proud parents of a daughter, born in a San Francisco hospital, Monday morning of this week.

The little Miss tipped the scales at 6 and three quarter pounds. Mrs. Giacomini was formerly Miss Elsie Musante.

A Tale O' The TownPRECISION

Work with boys is a never ending experience, as no two are exactly alike in looks, actions or reactions. The average person regards flowers just as flowers and lets it go at that, but to one intensely interested in blossoms, each bud and bloom is something new, different—a revelation of beauty not seen by the ordinary observer. So it is with boys. A dozen of them represent a dozen problems; twelve potential possibilities, and so on.

The boy worker, though he may sometimes be disappointed in some of them, keeps everlastingly working, looking and hoping for—he knows not exactly what—as it is always the unexpected that makes his calling interesting.

Many amusing incidents occur which must of necessity not be laughed at. Here is one. The writer, who has a small printing press, often sets boys to printing things for use in his youth group. On this particular occasion three pre-scout age boys were put to work and the one in charge shown, with a pair of dividers, just where on the sheet of paper the printing was to appear. All adjustments were made and work was begun.

About two hours later the leader returned and after inspecting the result commented that it was perfect.

"Well, it ought to be, I measured each copy just like you showed me," was the head boy's reply.

As a man of patience old man Job must have turned over in his grave and groaned a sigh of relief, for no less than three hundred sheets had been checked and double checked by that eagle-eyed youngster!

St. Patrick Bridge

A St. Patrick bridge party was given by Miss May Hendrickson, Friday of last week, at her home on San Diego avenue.

The ladies attending were Mesdames Hilda Heagney, Virginia Webb, Ruth Brown, Edna Fallows, Gertrude Riordan, Laverne Keenan, Mildred Jovic, Misses Christine Trochler, Margaret Cronin, Rose Harris and Irene Beltranie.

ACTRESS LOSES

Parker, who recently returned to California after a successful sojourn in New York, died before Miss Hopkins arrived at his home.

CHILD CHRISTENING AND BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

Baby James Michael La France six weeks old son of Mr. and Mrs. James M. La France of San Francisco, was christened, last Sunday, at Saint James Church. The godparents were Mrs. Gladys Dobbie and Frank Richardson.

The affair also celebrated the birthday of Mrs. Mary Behre, the great grandmother of baby James. She was a former resident of Daly City, having resided on Theta avenue.

OBSERVATIONS OF GOINGS ON IN
NATION CAPITAL*The Art Of Quilt Making Was One Of Our Best And Earliest Industries

(By Hart Goodrich)

An art which is truly American is that of quilt making. In the National Museum, here in Washington, are some very fine specimens of old quilts on display. But why did our great-grandmothers of the Colonial period laboriously piece together bits of cloth when it would have been so much quicker to make a comforter of a couple of pieces of material, pad it and let it go at that?

Answering that question unfolds a wonderful lesson in love and patience. In New England in the early days there was not enough cloth to make warm clothing. The people in that climate worked hard to keep body and soul together, and had no products to exchange with England for cloth. There were many times when whole communities were desperately cold. Clothing was mended until it could be mended no longer, and only then were the tiny scraps cut up and made into quilts. There are very few quilts left which were made before 1800, most of them disappearing because they were made to fill a great want and had been used so hard that they were actually worn away. Great credit should be accorded those women who could create a thing of beauty in a time of need.

On the contrary, in the South the women who had more leisure and more cloth, which they obtained from England, produced exceptionally beautiful quilts which have quite often survived to be found in collections at the present time.

In the 1860's it would have been difficult to find any thrifty housewife who did not have her patchwork close at hand. In the fall, when the harvest was over, she made preparations for the winter sewing. All the new pieces were carefully cut out and stacked in piles, according to size and color. If faded or white pieces were to be dyed the dye pot was set up for a day and into it went all the necessary scraps. This accounts for many of the strange and lovely shades found in some of the old quilts.

With the tops of several quilts ready for the backs, and to be quilted or tied, a quilting bee was in order. Before the days of central heating systems, rooms heated by fireplaces were of necessity small. To set up a quilting frame in one of these rooms very nearly filled it. It was a long job for one woman to attempt to piece her quilt alone, and frames were awkward things to move. So one woman would invite six or seven of her friends to spend the day, and with four women working at each frame they could finish by nightfall.

Good quilters were as popular at that time as good bridge players are today, and to be invited to one of these affairs was an honor. Hearts and reputations of young brides were often mended or broken, depending on how they acquitted themselves at their first quilting party.

No "nice" young woman would dream of getting married without a dozen or so fine quilts. In addition, she made her "bride's piece," which was the finest of the collection and usually made after her engagement had been announced. Invitations to a large quilting bee at the home of a young lady of marriageable age usually presaged an announcement of her engagement, and all the countryside would joyfully come to help.

In quilting's simplest form it is a handicraft that the 5-year-old may understand and enjoy. In its more intricate and elaborate aspects it is worthy of the greatest textile artists of all time.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "Reality." Included among the Scriptural selections will be: "Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things" (Phil. 4: 8).

The following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included: "The conceptions of mortal, erring thought must give way to the ideal of all that is perfect and eternal" (p. 260).

NOTES ON OUR ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS

Spanish Theme Used As Room Decoration

Integrated with the social science unit on the "Spanish in Early California," conducted by Miss Vireno in the high eighth grade of the Woodrow Wilson School, an art activity has been used to enliven and depict the theme. A very clever art student and art editor of the school paper, Roy DeVencenzi, who supervised the arrangement of this decoration, spontaneously expressed himself as follows:

"The pupils of the high eighth grade have shown their talent in drawing and coloring this week, as shown by the results of the Spanish border which they have just completed. The border shows the gay and colorful Spanish people of yesterday doing their work. Besides the figures there are various sizes of cacti, ancient Spanish ranchos, and rocks. All of this activity has been under the careful supervision of their art teacher, Mrs. Corral. This is one of the many activities the children are doing to brighten their room."

Mock Radio Station Urges Clear Speech

The pupils of the Woodrow Wilson sixth grade have established a mock radio broadcasting station in their room during their English period. This station is WWSG and the announcer is chosen by the class. Many of the pupils entertain with music, original stories and poems or short plays.

Through this activity the children have learned much about the management of a radio station and the importance of proper articulation.

Tropiland Visited By Special Class

The opportunity class of the Woodrow Wilson Elementary School is studying sea life. Accompanied by Mrs. Hahn they visited Tropiland to become better acquainted with tropical fish, which have been imported by the Johns Brothers from all parts of the world.

The children were very much interested in the many varieties seen. Some of the most gorgeous were the Siamese fighting fish, that have to be kept in separate tanks so that they may not see each other. When they are in the same tank, or see each other through tank walls, they begin fighting. It their native country the inhabitants bet on them as we bet on horses in the United States.

The silvery tarpon demanded its share of attention. This is the fish that President Roosevelt enjoys catching. The tarpon is naturally a salt water fish, but this one has become accustomed to fresh water.

Two very rare fish from Borneo also claimed attention. They possess the ability to change their color several times during the day.

The Chinese walking fish has quite a myth surrounding it. It is not beautiful but its story is unusual. Its bones are found in some of the deserts of China. Nature has a way of informing it when its dwelling place is going to become dry. It starts walking to a better site. Sometimes it is overtaken by the drought and succumbs before reaching its new home.

If a Chinese kills one and sees what he thinks are little legs on it, he will not touch it again, as he thinks the spirit of the Chinese dragon is embodied in it.

The afternoon was a very profitable one, as the children became more intimately acquainted with pisciculture.

Excursion To Daly City Water Dept.

An excursion to the Daly City Water Department was taken by the seventh and eighth grades of the Woodrow Wilson School, accompanied by their teacher Miss Vireno.

The purpose of the excursion was to acquaint the children with a public utility in their own locality.

They were enlightened as to its functions and importance in their daily lives through the thorough and excellent information presented by A. J. Bodien, superintendent of the Daly City Water Department.

P. T. A. Enjoys Marionette Show

The Woodrow Wilson P. T. A. enjoyed a program given by the Woodrow Wilson Dramatic Club. The program consisted of three talks, given by Mary Rosoff, Raymond Vercauteren and Edith Fasshauer, on the "History of Marionettes." A short marionette show was then presented with Roy DeVencenzi acting as manipulator of the marionettes.

All of the program was prepared under the guidance of Mrs. Lewis, who sponsors and advises the club.

Charged With Writing Threatening Letters To President

Just what constitutes a threat will be tested in New York March 30, when Lester D. O'Dell, 35, goes to trial on charges of writing threatening letters to President and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and other public figures. O'Dell recently gained national publicity when he sent $1 to the United States treasury, earmarked as a "payment on account to help posterity foot the debts of the new deal." Both O'Dell and his wife cheerfully admitted that letters had been written to the President. They denied, however, that the letters contained threats or in any way were improper.

SIMPLE VALUES DEALT WITH

George Meredith, the English novelist, was a man of simple tastes; and when he had a house built for himself it was comfortable and attractive, but modestly small.

One day when a young lady called to tell the novelist how much she enjoyed his books, he showed her round his little home. "Well, how do you like it?" he finally asked.

After a moment's hesitation the visitor replied, "It's lovely, Mr. Meredith; but one thing puzzles me. In your novels you always describe such wonderfully large and elaborate homes. How then does it happen that you have built such a tiny one for yourself?"

"Quite simple, my dear young lady," explained Meredith. "words are cheap—but taxes are dear!"

STUFFED SHIRT IN POLITICS

RICHARD ALLAN

(Drawn by Frances Montgomery)
Candidate for county attorney, Richard Allan is well on his way to victory through the unwitting aid of a house maid in his home who has all the "dope" on the big shot politicians in the town. Though an egotistical bag of wind, he is very apt to succeed in his political ambitions despite himself. This all occurs in "Me Third," the hilarious comedy now playing at the Alcazar Theater in San Francisco.

The play is by Mary Coyle Chase, a Denver newspaper woman, and was produced in New York by Brock Pemberton. It is nightly drawing capacity audiences to the Alcazar and has been pronounced one of the cleverest laugh producers ever staged in San Francisco. It will have a limited run only.

HEAR JUVENILE COURT OFFICIAL

Court St. Mary No. 1155, Catholic Daughters of America, met, Thursday evening of last week, and before the meeting was opened an interesting talk was enjoyed from Mrs. Wise of the Juvenile Court in Redwood City.

Mrs. Wise spoke of the wonderful work carried on by the County of San Mateo in the interest of all children who for any reason are brought to the Juvenile Court, and whose physical and mental needs are met and remedied.

After Mrs. Wise had completed her talk there was time allowed for discussion on this interesting subject and then the regular meeting was called to order by Vice Regent Evelyn Weckerle, who is occupying the chair during the illness of Grand Regent Helen Rode. A memorial service was conducted by Father J. Doyle for the late Mrs. Katherine Nocton, and the charter was draped in memory.

Mrs. Kohlman and her committee, who are working on the whist to be held April 7 in Masonic Hall, report many prizes are to be awarded.

Mrs. Margas, who was the chairman for the last whist, gave an excellent report.

An announcement was read from the state court that the annual communion for the Catholic Daughters is to be held at St. Mary's Cathedral, Sunday, March 27 at 8 o'clock.

After much business was disposed of all present retired to the banquet hall where tables were decorated with real Irish green and some of the refreshments were in the same color, due to the fact that it was March 17, St. Patrick's Day.

After refreshments Adele Hecht played Irish music and all joined in singing Irish refrains.

BEAUTY AND THE BUTLER

Claudette Colbert and Charles Boyer co-star in the grandest comedy romance to come out of Hollywood in many a moon—it's "Tovarich," based on the round the world stage hit. The screen version is the next feature attraction at the Daly City Theater.

Employees Of Track Attending School

Thirty youths between the ages of 16 and 18 years at Bay Meadows race track are enrolled as members of the new school being held at the track under the jurisdiction of Superintendent Homer Martin of the San Mateo Union High School District.

Every day during the current Bay Meadows racing season and during the spring meeting at Tanforan, the boys must attend classes under Edward Duffy of the San Francisco School Department, who will give individual attention to his students.

Included among the new students are jockeys and exercise boys.

MAN FROM THE SOUTH

Southern Colonel: "What heva you in the way of a room, suh?"

Room Clerk: "How about something with a northern exposure?"

"How dare you!"

NAME CHANGED BUT IS STILL GOOD COMEDY

J. L. Warner saw the play "Tovarich" in London and purchased it the next day from Gilbert Miller. It went into movie production as "Tovarich" but the name was changed the first week to "Tonight's Our Night." Reason: the producers felt the fans couldn't pronounce the Russian word. Then it was changed back again. It's not hard to pronounce. Just accent the second syllable—"var."

"Tovarich" will be featured at the Daly City Theater, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday of next week.

Jacques Deval, the playwright, wrote "Tovarich" in four weeks. It ran two years in London and a year in New York. Robert Sherwood did the English translation of the French play. Casey Robinson, who wrote the film scenario, used both the French and English versions and combined the best features of each.

Claudette Colbert is a blonde in the film. She dyed her hair for the part, rather than wear a wig. Miss Colbert did a good deal of crawling in "Tovarich." In one scene, filmed twenty times, she had to crawl across a plank 30 feet above the sound stage. In another she had to crawl across a room and seize Melville Cooper around the ankles. She sings two Russian songs in the film—"Rasposchal," a lullaby, and "Shto Mnie Joie." Charles Boyer sings one song—"The Volga Boatman" in Russian. Neither of the stars speaks Russian.

WELCOME SPRING AND BASEBALL

Spring is here bringing with it baseball in all its glory. The Daly City Baseball Club (Eddie White's team) worked off some of its seasonal fever at their monster whist party, Saturday evening of last week, in the City Auditorium.

The affair was all our boys had anticipated it to be, a large happy crowd, with forty or more of the whist players carrying off prizes, which were well worth striving for. Now the players of our home team have some money in their treasury to purchase the equipment they will need to render ace high ball manipulation, and the goal, championship of the league in which they play.

Listen! The boys of the team join in one big lusty voice to say, "Thank you, folks for coming out to lend your coins and skill to make that whist party such a grand success." They also want you to see next Sunday's game at the Jefferson Union High School diamond. A large rooting section will help the boys win figures on the score board and also another red letter event to bring Daly City in the lime light again. Let's all get together on the open air bleachers, folks, and enjoy some real ball playing. Remember the date, next Sunday, March 27.

The only punishment meted out to the five Dionnes is being stood in a corner—which is a very good trick in a four-cornered room.
